Life is beautiful and sweet.

Things you do in life can be neat.

Life is something that should be neverending and every part of it should be worth spending.

So! Live a good life to the very end and always remember to make a new friend.

Life can have many hard times along the way but we must keep moving on every day.