Imagine if you could see what you said?

If we saw what we said then it would look funny seeing words coming out of our mouths

Imagine if your dreams came true?

Well! Some dreams actually do come true but if made-up ones did, then that would be scary

Imagine if you were a giant?

If you were a giant then people would probably be scared of you and run away

Imagine if you could jump inside your TV set?

If we could jump inside our TV's that would be cool because then we could interact with the shows we watched
